APU – St. Edward’s University (U.S.A.)

Undergraduate Dual Degree Program Information

【 Program Objective and Outline 】

The aim of the dual degree program is to enable participants from APU and St. Edward’s University (SEU) to take courses for two years at each university (four years in total) to receive the degrees from both universities.

Degrees awarded

【College of Asia Pacific Studies】

APU: 学士（アジア太平洋学） Bachelor of Social Science

SEU: Bachelor of Arts

※For AY 2017, College of International Management students will not be recruited.

It’s not easy to receive two degrees in 4 years. You need to keep yourself motivated and actively engaged in studies and extra-curricular activities throughout these 4 years. However, the experience you will gain from this program as a result of your hard efforts will be a great advantage in an increasingly internationalized society in your future.

Those who desire to have a different experience from others by using their language ability, wish to challenge various things in international fields, or want to study abroad for more than one year are most welcome to apply for this program!

To those who are thinking of applying for this program:

This program, in which you study in the U.S. for nearly half of your undergraduate career, will contain a lot of excitement and challenge. You must be well prepared to face numerous struggles. It is critical for you to have strong interest in the field you wish to pursue and identify your future objectives as this program differs from other exchange programs in terms of receiving the degrees. (3) 2017 Spring Semester Course Registration

It is recommended that applicants take subjects transferrable to SEU. Check the separate attachment for subjects which meet SEU's graduation requirements. This can be downloaded from the Academic Office website.

※English classes are preferable.

4. Credit Transfer / Academics During and After the Program

(1) Credit Transfer

- The maximum number of credits a student is eligible to transfer (by the time he/she graduates) is 60 credits (including all other credit transferrable programs) regardless of the APU maximum credit limit for each semester.
- The student must apply to transfer the credits obtained for curricular subjects at the host university back to APU. The credit transfer application will be screened and evaluated by the Academic Affairs Division.
- It is not possible to transfer credits from subjects with no relation to those offered at APU, i.e. sports, art, etc.

- If credits you have taken have been transferred to APU as an APU subject, then you can no longer register to take that APU subject in APU. Additionally, if you have already taken that subject at APU before going on exchange, then you are not able to apply to transfer the credits for that subject.
- All grades for subjects that are able to be transferred back to APU will be listed as “T” (transfer) on the APU transcript.
- It is important that students make a detailed plan that includes thinking about the current courses that they are taking in addition to the courses that they take at their host university, how those courses will be transferred back after returning to APU, as well as graduation and plans (graduate school/career) after graduating.

(2) Academics During and After the Program

Your study plan, including your study plan during your time abroad, is very important in determining the timing of your graduation from APU. You may not be able to graduate on time due to a poorly detailed study plan. It is necessary that you construct a study plan after confirming the number of credits that you have obtained and your affiliated college’s curriculum before going on the program.

【Requirements for Program completion】

At SEU, students will consult with an academic advisor at SEU to register subjects. In order to obtain degrees from both universities in 4 years, students will need to register certain subjects to meet both degree requirements.

(3) Mandatory Language Education Subject Exemption (English/Japanese Language Subjects)

Students' score on the Placement Test that they take when they enroll at APU will determine the level that they will begin their non-basis Language Subject study at. In order to be able to apply for Language Subject (either English or Japanese) Exemption, students must receive a high enough score on one of the language proficiency exams designated by APU while they are on this Program. Students must apply for Language Subject exemption the semester BEFORE they resume their studies at APU.

If that student's application is approved, the student will resume their language studies at the next level or a level that is deemed appropriate to fit that student's ability. Additionally, if a student is exempted, then he/she must take an additional amount of General Elective credits to make up for the amount of exempted language credits.

1) 2016 Fall Enrollees (2011 curriculum):

Students must apply for exemption the semester preceding their return to APU.

Applications submitted at any other time will not be accepted. The tentative application period for students returning in the spring semester is in mid-January, with the application period for the fall semester falling in mid-July. Detailed information regarding the application period and process will be posted on the Academic Office homepage.

2017 Spring Enrollees (2017 curriculum):

Students may apply for exemption after returning to APU. Please check the Academic Office homepage and Undergraduate Academic Handbook for details.

- *2) Students must submit an application form and the original language proficiency exam score sheet during the application period. An "original score sheet" is a certificate or report from a testing organization which shows an evaluation of language ability. This must be printed by the testing organization itself. Downloaded documents will not be accepted. APU will not accept copied, faxed, or e-mailed documents. If you would like your original score sheet returned, please inform the Academic Office.

Should you have any inquiries regarding the Language Education Subject Exemption, please contact <cleac@apu.ac.jp>

(4) Registration of Japanese subjects for English-basis students (Caution)

English-basis students who are required to take Japanese subjects must complete until Japanese Intermediate in order to graduate from APU. English-basis students who enroll in the Spring semester will depart APU at the end of their first semester and face a high possibility of not completing all their Japanese language requirements. In this case, students must take the Japanese Language Proficiency Test while abroad or register Japanese upon returning to APU. Studying Japanese and maintaining Japanese proficiency during the program will require great effort. Please take this into careful consideration when applying.

※English-basis students whose first language is Japanese are not required to take Japanese subjects.

5. Treatment of Scholarships during the Exchange Period

 Tuition reduction scholarships for international students, Academic Excellence scholarships and Academic Incentive scholarships for domestic students will remain in effect even when you are studying abroad, given that you pass the regular assessment.

- Please consult the Student Office for details.

6. Program Fees

- The following fees will be the responsibility of the participant during the program period. (SEU admission and tuition fees are not required!!)

■ 【International Students and Domestic Students Paying Their Own Tuition】

You cannot make the payment properly while you are studying abroad from overseas. It is necessary for international students and domestic students who are paying their own tuition to undertake the necessary procedures to pay their tuition via the University's designated tuition payment methods and prepare the entire tuition amount to cover their entire exchange period before departure. Please consult with your financial sponsor before applying to the Program so that he/she is aware of the program costs ahead of time.

- Students who would like to confirm their own personal tuition amounts should consult with the Administration Office staff.
