

1. Master's Program in Asia Pacific Studies

To accomplish the educational objectives stipulated in the University Regulations, the completion requirements along with the learning outcomes to be achieved by the time of completion have been defined for the Graduate School of Asia Pacific Studies, Master's Program in Asia Pacific Studies below.

a) Completion Requirements

To earn a degree students must enroll for the designated period, obtain the number of credits required for completion in accordance with the registration requirements established by the University, and either write a thesis or complete a special project (Research Report) which successfully passes the screening process.

Together with the credits that must be obtained for completion, the results of the student's research in the form of either a thesis or a special project (Research Report) will also be screened and, based on these results successfully passing the screening, the student's completion and degree conferral will be recognized.

b) Learning Outcomes

- 1) Broad knowledge and understanding of the various issues facing the Asia Pacific region
- 2) Advanced knowledge of discipline
- 3) Global perspectives

2. Master's Program in International Cooperation Policy

To accomplish the educational objectives stipulated in the University Regulations, the completion requirements along with the learning outcomes to be achieved by the time of completion have been defined for the Graduate School of Asia Pacific Studies, Master's Program in International Cooperation Policy below.

a) Completion Requirements

To earn a degree students must enroll for the designated period, obtain the number of credits required for completion in accordance with the registration requirements established by the University, and either write a thesis or complete a special project (Research Report) which successfully passes the screening process.

Together with the credits that must be obtained for completion, the results of the student's research in the form of either a thesis or a special project (Research Report) will also be screened and, based on these results successfully passing the screening, the student's completion and degree conferral will be recognized.

b) Learning Outcomes

- 1) Broad knowledge and understanding of the various issues facing the Asia Pacific region
- 2) Advanced knowledge of discipline
- 3) Global perspectives