Course-based and Objective-based Guidance Courses

Get research tips from Information Search Guidance Courses!!

When research seminars start, you will need more documents and information to complete assignments and reports. Also, during job search, it can be difficult to research corporate information and current events if you don't have a clear knowledge of where to look. There are tips that can help you to search more effectively.

We have prepared 9 courses to help you master techniques for efficient information search.
