

Located in the heart of Buenos Aires, UADE is an undergraduate and graduate degree granting university with a 43,000-student population. Campus based, this modern and innovative institution of higher education is devoted to providing students professionally focused leading-edge opportunities in learning and research engagement.

Strong academic-business profile

Founded by the Argentine Chamber of Corporations, our identity is built upon strong ties between the University and the business world. These ties enable UADE to keep pace with the ever-changing labor market demands and give a proactive response through academic education and research.

Education enhanced by avant-garde technology

Graduates from UADE are proficient with state-of-the-art technology and apply their theoretical knowledge and hands-on experience to real world situations in a high tech, cutting-edge environment.

Student and Faculty's academic life enriched by Internationalization

There is room for globalized experiences for both students and faculty through educational, cultural, and linguistic exchange programs: every year, more than 300 foreign students from universities all over the world are welcome to UADE and can validate their credits within its exchange programs. They receive support from the International Relations Office, which serves as a go-between between students and faculty departments. To foster internationalization of curricula, faculty, and students, UADE holds partnerships with more than 100 universities around the world.

RESEARCH INSTITUTES

UADE is striving to stimulate high quality applied research output and has been doing so by building on the existing strengths of its different applied research institutes. They are committed to encouraging original inquiry, innovation, and contribution to national development. To this end, they have recently made bonds with CONICET

(Consejo Nacional de Investigaciones Científicas y Técnicas) to develop and sustain a recognized research culture, produce discussion paper series and be hosts of research visitors with the purpose to promote exchange between academics, students, alumni, and professionals in the public and not-for-profit sectors.
