

Faculty Information

KIM Chan Hoe

■ Division:

Society and Culture (SC)

■ Research Area:

Folklore Studies

■ Research Methods:

Comparative studies between the Japanese medieval myths and Korean mythological stories handed down by shamans.

■ Seminar Topic and Keywords:

Comparative study of East Asian language culture, myths, legends, folk tales, etc.

■ Seminar Teaching Method:

East Asian myths and legends from the comparative perspective

■ Possible Research Topics for Students:

Folklore Studies, Japanese Literature, , Religious studies

■ Comments:

At APU, through the interaction with other students coming from various countries, students are able to learn about the differences between religions, nationalities and cultures, not to mention academics, which ultimately leads to a global mutual understanding among nations. In a global era, a variety of values and open-mindedness are required. Use this unique chance to develop yourselves in this rich environment.