

Faculty Information

Sanada Kie

■ Division:

International Public Administration (IPA)

■ Research Area:

Decentralized governance, Regional policies, Community building, DX (Smart cities etc), GX (Ecotown etc) , Center-periphery relationship, Sociology, Japanese Studies

■ Research Methods:

Mixed methods

■ Seminar Topic and Keywords:

Up to the students' interests and progress but mainly on Research design, Sociological theories, Methodologies

■ Seminar Teaching Method:

Consultation basis

■ Possible Research Topics for Students

International comparison of ecotown designs

Socio-technical disciplinary power of everyday life in a smart city

Community building as socio-political mobilization etc

■ Comments:

I welcome students who are motivated to examine original and critical research questions. I want students to study not merely to improve how our current society functions, but to take time to critically examine the future direction in which our societies are heading. I strongly encourage you to use your time in the master's program as an opportunity to deeply engage in reading, writing, and thinking about the fundamental challenges shaping our world.