

Faculty Information

SUN, Xiaomei

■ Division: Society and Culture (SC)

■ Research Area:

Global communication, political communication, political economy of media and communication, comparative communication research, social movement studies, East Asian studies

■ Research Methods:

Survey, comparative analysis, framing analysis, content analysis, discourse analysis, case studies

■ Seminar Topic and Keywords:

Digital platforms and political participation, digital activism, political economy of media and communication

■ Seminar Teaching Method:

Close reading/circle discussion, peer review, academic writing workshops, progressive report

■ Possible Research Topics for Students:

News consumption on social media, news coverage and politics, social movements, journalism and media system, political economy of media and communication, fake news, incivility online, social identity and digital media, digital bias and inequality

■ Comments:

Students are strongly encouraged to discuss potential research topics before the semester starts.