- Notes:
- Fill in the values for the blank spaces. Shaded areas will be calculated automatically.
 - Use A3 format. When submitting, arrange layout and print within one page, if possible. In case of the data going over more than 2 pages, arrange the print setting and keep the title line including "College / Graduate School", and "Department / Major" and so forth.
 - "Ratio of Current Students to Student Capacity", "Ratio of Enrollees to Intake Capacity (5 year average)", and "Ratio of Transfer Students to Transfer Student Capacity" should be rounded off to two decimal points
 - For departments offering both day and evening courses, list separately for day and night courses.
 - When entering the data of "Enrollees" and "Intake Capacity", in the case for college/department that has 4 years course term, list values for 5 years from "2010" onward. In the case for college/department that has 6 years course term, list values for 6 years from "2009" onward. In the case of master's/doctoral program and professional degree program, list values for 5 years from "2010" onward.
 - List correspondence courses, graduate schools and other courses conforming to college table.
 - For colleges, departments, graduate or professional graduate schools no longer recruiting or has not reached the completion academic year, place them in the appropriate college/department, graduate school/major column noted with an asterisk.「※」(Example: No recruiting since April, 2009)
 - If there is a college with only holdover enrollees under the situation that it carries out no more admission, create a column for the college, and list only "Current Number of Students(B)."
 - Change the assigned value according to the current condition of the university, regarding the course term for graduate schools of other departments.
 - Calculations for the "Ratio of Enrollees to Intake Capacity (5 year average)" is automatically set for 5 years. Correct the calculations for any colleges or departments established for less than 5 years.

[University Notes]

- Figures in "Current Number of Students (B)" are current as of November 1, 2014.
- APU admits students in both the spring and the fall semesters, so "Enrollees" in Table 3 is the total number of spring and fall enrollees. "Number of Transfer Students" is the number of students who transferred to APU in both the 2014 spring and fall semesters.
- Intake Capacity and Transfer Student Capacity in AY2010 to AY2014 are as follows:

		AY2010	AY2011	AY2012	AY2013	AY2014
College of Asia Pacific Studies	Enrollees	643	618	600	600	600
	Second Year Transfer Students	4	4	12	12	12
	Third Year Transfer Students	8	8	18	18	18
College of International Management	Enrollees	590	615	600	600	600
	Second Year Transfer Students	6	6	22	22	22
	Third Year Transfer Students	11	11	31	31	31

- The number of enrollees through transfer admission (tennyu) in AY2014 is as follows.
 College of Asia Pacific Studies Second Year: 5 Students Third Year: 3 Students
 College of International Management Second Year: 7 Students Third Year: 6 Students
