

We look forward to hearing from you, APU students!

In order for APU to become a better university, it is important that we listen to what our students want to say. Please fill out the questionnaire below and tell us what you think about APU academic courses, student life, etc.

The responses from the students will be analysed by the students participating in the "Project for Building a System for Listening to Students", and they will prepare the draft proposal. When the draft proposal is ready (expected around October), it will be made public and students will have the opportunity to have their opinions heard. The proposal will then be submitted to the University as a formal proposal. The University will then respond to the proposals through-meetings with students and/or in some other way.

<Project for Building a System for Listening to Students>

This questionnaire is being conducted as part of the "Project for Building a System for Listening to Students". The aim of this project is to connect APU students with the university, to bring students' voices to the university, and to let students get involved in improving the University with faculty and staff. A pilot program was run last year and many students gave their voices to the program. A summary of last year's activities is included in the attached file. Please have a look through it before you answer the questionnaire.
